

Anshika Jain
+19342346455
aj3437@nyu.edu

Dear Mr/Ms Hiring Manager

When I found out about this position I was thrilled to apply for this position.

My skills included but not limited to managing a full fledged company and management in business operations and research as well as I am a cofounder of a start-up.

I am an all rounder person who believes in soft skill development with technical skills as well. I can work in a team and can also work independently.

I have done projects that include domains of fintech, technology, healthcare and IoT. As a person who always strives for all round development and knowledge I have taken part and won some of the Hackathons like HackNYU 2023 and 2022, MIT covid challenge, Skunkworks Hackathon etc.

Recently I have found my interest in Trading and quant finance as being a former co-founder I understood the importance of Money flow in the market and economic situations. I recently saw a docu series about a case of Madoff Investments which made me realize that trading should be known and regulated. Hence I would like to apply for this position.

With the technical knowledge I have gained in my Masters and many more to learn I would want to contribute to the company. I believe that working for this position would be an opportunity to put in my skills to maximize the output of the services provided by you, also it would help me improve my skills in a better way. I look forward to speaking with you further.

Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Thankyou for your time and consideration

Sincerely Anshika Jain